Mockup Review Notes:

Mockup A:

- Really like the colors used here
- Maybe the sidebar could have a somewhat transparent background so people can still see some of the main page blended in
 - Play around with different background colors like blue or blackish-grey or even white
- Add some photos to the timeline so it's not all text (want viewers to stay engaged)

Mockup B:

- The timeline layout here got my attention a lot more
 - Could maybe add cutout photos? almost like a scrapbook vibe? (again to keep viewers engaged)
- I think i like the sidebar navigation more than the navbar
- I also like what you did in MockUp A where the photo on the landing page overlayed part of the text
- I think the red might be too bold and fits less with the visual direction I want
- The Shohei Ohtani text on the main page and the other headers as well could be bolder like the years are on the timeline (applies to both mockups)
